1. Character Summary

Story Role: Protagonist

Bio:

A powerful and mysterious countess with impenetrable skin of stone and soulless golden eyes, Colette is known as the “Grey Demon” by the few who have been unfortunate enough to encounter her. In truth however, Colette is a human being suffering from the side effects of a “cure” to a rare psychological imbalance, which, if left unchecked, would cause her to become a dangerous psychopathic killer.

In order to prevent herself from regressing back to her deranged persona, she must constantly find and consume the vital resource from which her cure is made. This often puts her at odds with the innocent people that also rely on the resource and has led to her being feared as a demon and witch to be hunted down and destroyed at all cost.

Colette is clever, confident, and cold hearted. While not innately violent, she’ll do whatever she needs to in order to survive. However, with her skills in Aromatic Alchemy, (the combining and use of natural elements to manipulate and affect the senses of others) she seldom needs to draw blood and usually can suffice with a few imaginative illusions instead. The fact that she has this ability is also one of the reasons why she feels she must never return to her human form, as in the hands of her sadistic alter ego, there would be no end to the amount of mayhem she could cause.
